twentieth

Rainbow Cross For Two By Jonathan Horowitz

Henzel Studio

DESCRIPTION

For HENZEL STUDIO COLLABORATIONS, Jonathan Horowitz created a free-form design titled Rainbow Cross for Two. New York-based Jonathan Horowitz works in video, sculpture, sound installation, painting and photography and is known for making work that critically examines some of the most controversial social and political issues of the day, including race, sexuality, celebrity, religion and consumerism. Jonathan Horowitz has had solo shows at The Museum of Modern Art (MoMA), MoMA PS1, New Museum, in New York and Hammer Museum in Los Angeles.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

JONATHAN HOROWITZ

Rainbow Cross For Two, 2018

Edition of 20 + 1 AP

Numbered

Accompanied by a Certificate of Authenticity

Hand knotted, Tibetan weave

200 x 220 cm (79 x 87ins)

Wool & Silk

Custom size upon request