Monolith Table Lamp

Christopher Kreiling

DESCRIPTION

The stacked monolith table lamp is grounded, powerful, and sexy. Its silhouette is modern and simple, yet detailed and tactile up close. The body is made of stacked polished and waxed solid brass plates and saddle leather. Please note that the brass will patina and darken with age and handling. The simple architecture continues into the rectangular lampshade made from soft lambs leather with a 24-karat gold gilt interior. The light from an LED bulb appears warm and incandescent from the bottom of the shade. The lamp operates from a thumb dimmer switch on the black French twist cord.
