Philodendron Leaf Dining Chair

Christopher Kreiling

DESCRIPTION

The Philodendron dining chair was hand-sculpted; be sure it’s as comfortable as it is gorgeous! Each chair weighs about 40 pounds making it well suited for outdoor conditions, including gusty winds or indoors – on the right flooring. Each casting ends up unique, making the chairs one-of-a-kind. The face of the chair has a dark chocolate patina that will evolve beautifully with use and age. The back has been polished and waxed. The overall finish is not meant to be perfect as time will bring out even more depth in the brass. The chair legs are solid hand-turned brass with an ombré bronzed finish and a clear matte protective coat. The powder-coated finish is customizable.

The Philodendron leaf dining chair will surely bring out the personality of your dining guests!
