Neon Line Study Sconce (B)

Christopher Kreiling

DESCRIPTION

The Neon Line Study Sconce is part of the Neon Line Study collection, which follows one neon tube through twists and turns. The shape created is a playful journey of light. Set into a solid, polished, waxed brass base that will patina with time.

The Neon Line Study Series is a one-of-a-kind hand-sculpted hanging fixture that is based on a drawing Christopher Kreiling had been making since childhood. There is something other-worldly or intergalactic within the line that sometimes alludes to a futuristic cityscape. The armature wire is bent by the designer himself, then translated into neon tubes. The canopy is made of high polished copper, brass or steel which mirrors the lines as they appear to rise vertically into the ceiling. This Series is fully customizable.

One can request a variation, and a conversation between the buyer and designer will lead to a one-of-a-kind fixture.
